

Managing Conflict

Tuesday, Dec 10th
9 AM - 3 PM

NEPPA has partnered with Robert J. Awkward, Ph.D., from Framingham State University, to provide high-caliber leadership training in the area of conflict management. Dr. Awkward's progressive, diverse and successful human resources experiences in varied industries, and in academia, makes him an invaluable resource on this topic. This course will build an understanding of the nature and common causes of conflict, as well as strategies to manage it. It highlights escalation, de-escalation and the conflict and negotiation process.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This course is designed for:

- General Managers
- Directors
- Supervisors
- Team Leads or Emerging Leaders
- Administrative Professionals
- Project Managers

COURSE OVERVIEW

The Managing Conflict Course is designed to equip existing and emerging leaders with the tangible skills to better manage conflict with themselves, their teams, and in their organization. Participants will reflect on how to utilize conflict management skills and what tools would positively impact themselves and their organization. From the very beginning, participants are encouraged to identify the changes they desire and, more specifically, the behaviors they are seeking to change or improve. They are then asked to imagine the specific results they will achieve because of these new behaviors and work to create an environment that allows transformation to happen.

This in-person, instructor-led program will be presented in one full-day session being held Tuesday, December 10th from 9:00 am – 3:00 pm at the NEPPA Training Center (200 New Estate Road, Littleton MA 01460).

Topics Include:

1. The Nature of Conflict
2. The Common Causes of Conflict
3. Conflict Escalation/De-Escalating Conflict
4. Interpersonal Conflict Management Strategies
5. The Conflict Process
6. Conflict Management Skills
7. The Negotiation Process
